This workshop will be held Saturday, November 14, on the campus. Plans have been made by a committee of this state organization.

Further details concerning the workshop will be announced in the near future, and opportunity for advanced registration made.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"SORRY, BROTHER HAMMOND, WE JUST DON'T HAVE ROOM HERE—HOWEVER IF THIS BOY IS AS GOOD AS YOU SAY—"

Tower Staff Commences Work Toward Annual Completion

The activities for this year's Tower Staff are well underway. Mary Kay Beason, editor-in-chief; Dee Mark, assistant editor; Pam Brown, art editor; Mr. Howard Ringold, sponsor; and Dr. Frank Grube, faculty advisor, are planning the book's activities.

The cover design has been finished and will be under production after the first orders have been taken. Organizational pictures have been finished and departmental pictures will be taken in the near future.

Freshmen pictures have been completed and by November 7, the seniors will also be finished. Between November 7 and Thanksgiving vacation, the junior pictures will be taken and the Sophomores scheduled afterward. All photographing for this year's annual is being done by Bud Alexander.

Orders for the '59-60 Tower will be taken three times during the school year. The first orders are scheduled before Thanksgiving, the second after New Year's, and the third during the second semester. The price of the annual is as follows: 60c—students enrolled first and second semesters; $1.20—students enrolled last summer and first semester or last summer and second semester; $1.80—either first or second semester; $2.40—last summer school only; free—students enrolled in last summer school, first and second semesters; $3.00—anyone not enrolled in any semester.

The annual is supported only by the activity fund and the small charge for each book.

This year's Tower Staff hopes to have a bigger picture section and less write-ups.

All Freshmen should turn in their proofs to the Bud Alexander Studio as soon as possible if they have not done so already. Organizational write-ups should be turned in Mary Kay Beason or Dee Mark by the second week in November.

Miss Humphreys Places Second

Miss Peggy Humphreys, 1959 TKE Sweetheart, placed second in the international Sweetheart Contest sponsored by the national TKE magazine, The Teke Life.

Peggy competed with co-eds representing all the approximately 160 chapters of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Miss Humphreys, a junior from Manilla, Ia., was judged on beauty and on participation in campus affairs. Upon winning this honor, she became Miss September on the TKE calendar for 1959-1960.

ROC Processing Starts

The U. S. Naval Training Center, 13th and Olive Streets in St. Joseph is now accepting and processing applications for the 1960 Reserve Officer Candidate Program.

Through the ROC program, enlisted members of the Naval Reserve as well as civilian students who are attending an accredited college can apply for an appointment as a commissioned officer in the Naval Reserve. College students, upon notification of their selection, will be required to enlist in the Naval Reserve for a six year term.

Those applicants selected for ROC will be deferred from performing active duty until such time as they are graduated from college and tendered their commissions. Successful candidates will then be placed on active duty as commissioned officers, as agreed to in their ROC contract.

The deadline for accepting applications for ROC is January 15, 1960. Men who are interested should contact their nearest Naval Reserve Training Center for more detailed information about the program.

Dr. Jones Attends State Conference Students Make Car Surveys

Dr. J. W. Jones, Northwest Missouri State College president, attended a meeting in Jefferson City of which Gov. James T. Blair told the heads of Missouri's state universities and colleges Tuesday, October 26, to work out a team plan for meeting the problems of exploding enrollment and rising education costs.

"As you know," he told the assembled educators in his office, "sufficient funds have not been available to meet the present needs of many of our state agencies and institutions, and anticipated needs during the coming decade will place a further strain on resources."

"State appropriations for higher education have jumped from 19 million dollars in 1951-53 to nearly 49 million dollars in 1959-61, an increase of 155 per cent. By contrast, general revenue expenditures for all functions have increased only 76 per cent during the same period. Enrollments in our colleges and universities have increased over 100 per cent in the last seven years, from 13,900 to 28,650."

Governor Blair said that the administrative organizations of Missouri's colleges and universities creates a problem in co-ordination. Every Missouri institution has a separate board; whereas some states, as Iowa and Kansas, have a single board controlling state supported schools.

He also said that the group should study the probable future enrollment pace and then study ways of meeting it—including the possibility of extension facilities to present schools or perhaps state support for junior colleges.

He listed a number of technical fields in which he believes the schools could simplify and coordinate their administration and curriculum programs.

The Student Senate is investigating parking problems on the campus of Northwest Missouri State College.

The parking committee, headed by Roger Blackwell and Bill Sutter, is conducting a survey to determine what percentage of cars are being parked illegally.

If students do not comply with parking regulations and do not adhere to the lots for which their sticker is issued, strict methods of enforcement will be put into effect.

The city of Maryville, with the assistance of several Northwest Missouri State College students, conducted a traffic survey recently. The purpose of the survey was to determine the traffic conditions at 2nd and Walnut, 3rd and Mulberry, 7th and Walnut, and 2nd and Vine.

Students helping conduct the survey were Larry Addison, Don Anderson, John Bray, Keith Fee, Weldon Grace, Darrell Guest, Larry Laidley, Don Lawton, Charles Livieri, and Dick Wilcox.

Home Ec. Seniors Cook On T.V.

A varied and busy program is in sight for Tower Choir members. The Choir is now forming the nucleus of the "Brigadoon" chorus. As in past years, the Tower Choir will tour the high schools of surrounding communities during the College semester break. Radio and television performances will also be given at this time. During the Christmas season, the choir will again sing carols at 12:30 p.m. in the Administration Building.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

All That Jazz

Hello there all you little girls and boysies! And of course all you senior-type individuals!

After many hours of uninterrupted concentration (really I was asleep) I've finally decided why some industrious person took the time to invent those platforms of power more commonly called podiums. In case you're interested in my reasoning, I think they're to make wee inferior persons like myself feel that much more inferior. Teachers have a nack of appearing more fierce and verocious staring down at you from his little soapbox.

This conclusion was demonstrated to me this past week in Mr. Huh-Hums class. (You really didn't expect me to get myself in trouble on purpose, did you? I have hopes of passing the course.) This teacher-person seemed to get the impression that I was asleep in class. But I only do things like that during my office hours here at the paper. Really, I was wrapped up in thoughts of earth shaking consequence like a big date over the week-end that turned real swell. Well, he began to stare at a speck of dirt in the middle of my forehead. And the more he stared the more I squirmed and the more I squirmed the more he stared. Until it finally looked as if I was doing the "Set-In-One-Place Cha-Cha." So as a last resort I punched the young lady settling next to me with my bony elbow for a little assistance. But young men just do not punch the co-eds in this here College. And after her eyes seemed to reach out and slap me across the face she began erasing some huge, huge mistake in her notes. Page after page she erased. At last finished, this lovely young thing brushed the teeny bits of eraser onto my just-right wrinkled pants.

All this time of embarrassment my understanding instructor was holding up fifty-two other people waiting for me.

The urge was just too, too much! I rolled her gift into a ball and began blowing my new-found toy across the floor. And then . . . Ta-de-de-dum!

That's all until next week's clam bake. 'Byeccc!

Take care an' all that jazz!

Tragic Accident

A tragic accident occurred on campus the week of Homecoming, but was not reported because of a lack of space in the paper.

We were crossing the street immediately south of the Administration Building (you know, the one with the parkways and rose bushes, and aren't they lovely this year?) when we saw a Volkswagon approaching. Suddenly before our very eyes the little foreigner drove into a large chukhole that was there and disappeared.

When it did not reappear we examined the crevasse but we were unable to see the car. Since we were on our way to homecoming class with the necessary tools, we dropped a plumb line into the hole but were still unable to locate the unfortunate vehicle.

We are pleased to report that every action is being taken to prevent the VW from hindering traffic. The hole has been filled.

It is hoped that similar incidents will befall similar cars in similar chukholes existing on West Seventh Street behind Residence Hall.

Let's all hope we don't run out of foreign cars!

by L. Seymour Thyngs

Found

Two honest girls found a sum of money during the recent homecoming festivities. The money has been placed in the care of President Jones. The owner may have it if he can identify it satisfactorily.

The Dolphins, under the direction of Miss Bonnie Magill, are planning a synchronized swimming show to be presented in the college pool March 16, 17, and 18, 1960. Officers for this year are: president, Peg Riley; vice-president, Karen Hawk; secretary, Edy Echoff; Treasurer, Donna Sue Lyon; and reporter, Beverly Lyle.

Dr. Caldwell Receives National Recognition In 'Design Quarterly'

The work of Dr. Eleanor Caldwell, chairman of the fine arts department at Northwest Missouri State College is represented in the current issue of "Design Quarterly" a publication devoted to the plastic arts.

A sterling silver and wood pin and a pair of sterling silver and plexiglass earrings made by Dr. Caldwell were selected as examples of outstanding work being done by contemporary designer-craftsmen in the field of jewelry.

The work was selected on merits of design, craftsmanship and content included in the visual representation of American jewelry. Dr. Caldwell uses silver and gold in combination with various materials such as exotic woods, plastics, and gems.

In addition to her jewelry she has received national recognition for her creative weaving.

PEM Club Holds First Meeting

The PEM Club held its first meeting for all women Physical Education majors and minors at Horace Mann Gymnasium on October 19 at 7:30.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Alice Koppold, president. The sponsors, Miss Magill—chairman of Department of P.E. for Women, Miss Harristhal, Miss Joann Katherine—member of P.E. Department, Dr. Kathryn Riddle—member of P.E. Department, and Mrs. Dorothy Walker; and the officers, Alice Koppold—president; Betty Lou Heflin—vice-president; Sarah Porter—secretary and treasurer; and Carol Lilly—reporter, publicity chairman, were introduced to the new members.

The short business meeting was followed by an activity program which consisted of instruction on the flying rings, double ropes, parallel bars, and trampoline. The group was divided into four squads which rotated to each piece of equipment, resulting in each person having had instruction as well as opportunity to perform and practice on each type of apparatus. The rhythm provided by soft music in the background aided the participants in remembering the importance of form and grace while performing on the apparatus.

Refreshments were served to approximately 30 slightly tired and perhaps somewhat bewildered members of P.E.M. Club who were anxious to know when the next meeting was to take place.

The Stroller . . .

The Stroller came out of hibernation just in time to get into the swing of Homecoming affairs. And she has spent the last week just recuperating from the big weekend. The Stroller tries to keep his ears open so she will know just what every student is thinking. Most every student is thinking that this was the best Homecoming in many a years. The Stroller is working on a clue to who set fire to the house decorations. It's worth doing some investigation for that $100 reward.

While the Stroller's big ears were flapping around the campus, she heard many students talking about tests during Homecoming week. There were many of them, it seems, even on Friday before the big day. It seems to the Stroller that a teacher doesn't have much respect for Administration when he refuses to cooperate or even be interested in Homecoming. One teacher, as he gave his test Friday morning, even said that he forgot all about Homecoming and Monday he couldn't see why there were so many low grades. Ah, but it is not for the Stroller to reason why, but merely to do or die.

The Stroller still has to chuckle when she sees Phil Rawlins. It seems that Phil was pretty wicked with the hair clippers during Freshman orientation and after Homecoming several of the freshman ganged up and shaved Phil's head.

The Stroller is glad to be back in action and he will be digging up all sorts of interesting little tidbits for you. The Stroller's beat includes everywhere from the Den to the President's Inner Sanctum so be on guard. When you see those large ears flapping to the wind, you'll know that the Stroller's at work.

Lost and Found

Did you know that our college has a very efficient lost and found exchange? Well, it has, and it's located in the Business Office of the Administration building.

The lost and found office has a sizeable collection of pens, scarves, eye glasses, and jewelry. A jacket also lies unclaimed in lost and found. In addition, a surprising number of books and texts find their way through the lost and found exchange.

If you discover any of your personal possessions missing, it might be wise to check the Business Office. Who knows, your missing article may be there waiting for you.

If you should find any items on campus, you can expedite the valuable service that the lost and found exchange is performing by turning them in immediately to lost and found, on the second floor of the Administration Building.

The Business Office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon Monday through Saturday, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

TKE House Additions

Delta Nu chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon have started eating meals in their house. The kitchen and dining hall have been completed and three meals a day are being served.

Mrs. Anna Potter from Quitman has been hired to cook for the fraternity.

Somebody new has moved into the TKE House lately. It is Delta Nu's mascot, a little collie puppy. He is just six weeks old and needs a lot of care, but the men are enjoying taking care of him. He hasn't been named yet. The active chapter has left this as a duty for the pledge class to think up an appropriate name for him.

Stack Changes

Mr. James Johnson, librarian, reports that there has been a stack rearrangement at the library. The expansion is the first in six years.

Books were rearranged to cover all five floors instead of just three. The basement holds textbooks, first floor has books ranging from 8 to 900, second floor has Congressional Records, third floor has books ranging from 0 to 300, and fourth floor has bound magazines and newspapers.

The stacks were painted white to reflect more light and make it easier to see books. Each subject has room to expand and add more books.

The big advantage to the user is that it is much easier to find the books and to keep them in order. The textbooks in the basement makes it easier to get texts at registration.

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist.

Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet.

Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable.

Hwy Patrol Head Warns of Dangers During Hayrides

The State Highway Patrol Superintendent warned of traffic law violations and danger where "hayrides" are concerned.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner said, "Conditions under which hayrides are ordinarily conducted are extremely dangerous and are also in strict violation of Missouri traffic laws. The tractor operator, the riders and other motorists are in danger when these vehicles are on the roads at night."

The superintendent urged teachers, parents, youth group counselors, and church organizations to consider the dangers involved and arrange for the rides to be conducted on private property. He said, "There are few of us who did not enjoy this form of fun during the fall season when we were young, but conditions have changed since the time public roads were seldom used at night."

The patrol chief called attention to the fact that one group of Missouri youngsters on a hayride this year were involved in three traffic accidents. In one of the mishaps a boy was injured and before the outing was over, two automobiles had suffered damages amounting to over $400. "Fortunately no one was killed in this series of accidents," Waggoner added, "But any clear thinking adult can well imagine what could have happened."

The superintendent said the Safety Division of the Highway Patrol continually warns farmers of the dangers involved when farm tractors have to use public roads in the course of the days work. "The dangers are magnified a hundred times when these slow moving, cumbersome vehicles are on the roads at night," he stated.

Missouri Motor Vehicle Regulations exempt farm tractors using public roads, from being licensed and driven by a licensed operator only when traveling from one field or farm to another, or to or from places of delivery or repair.

Peterson Looks For Good Season In Wrestling

According to Coach Peterson, the wrestling outlook for the coming season is bright. The record might not be as good as last year because of the rough competition, but the individual wrestlers will be better.

There will be six returning lettermen for this season's mat events. They are: Lynn Peterson, 133 lbs., Ralph Messerli, 130 lbs., Bill Waugh, 175 lbs., Harold Wilmarth, 167 lbs., Jim Clayton, 177 lbs., Jack Mendenhall, 197 lbs., and Doyle Thomas, heavyweight.

Twenty-five boys have already reported and are working out, and some will start with the ending of the football season. Out of this twenty-five, Coach Peterson says that most of them have had four years high school experience, and one has an additional two years experience in the Army. With these twenty-five wrestlers, Coach Peterson will be able to fill the 137 lb. and 147 lb. classes with from 3 to 4 experienced wrestlers.

Bearcats Shade Rolla Miners, 7-6

The Northwest State College Bearcats overcame a jinx that has been plaguing them for several games and defeated the Rolla Miners, 7-6, in a close game Saturday in Memorial Stadium. It was the last home game of the year for the Bearcats and the last for several lettermen.

Maryville's line was the deciding factor in the game, the most thrilling of the year. Three times the Miners moved to within the shadow of the Maryville goal in the waning minutes of the game.

And three times the forward wall, minus two of its regulars, held the visitors.

The margin of victory, as in the 14-12 homecoming win over Springfield, was the conversion kicking of Jack Taylor, senior guard.

The win also gives Maryville undisputed third place in MIAA standings, just behind Kirksville, 3-1, who are the Bearcats opponents in a road game next Saturday.

Maryville's lone tally was scored by star end Mickey Nardin who grabbed a 14-yard pass from Ken Sanders, quarterback, in the end zone as the clock showed 8 seconds left in the first half.

Rolla countered midway in the third period on a once-in-a-million fluke play.

James Kamicar, substitute halfback, grabbed a blocked Bearcat field goal attempt from the air and sped just a few steps ahead of Jim Clayton, guard, 93 yards for a tally. But the Rolla PAT attempt was wide.

The blocked field goal attempt was the third tried by Taylor during the game.

The Bearcats threatened to score five times during the game, but each time were thwarted.

Rolla got inside of the Maryville 20 three times during the game, but were repulsed.

Fulton threw 9 good passes in 21 and Sanders threw one, the successful touchdown pass.

Nota Bene

Raytown high school has lost one of her most capable teachers, Stuart Miller, of the chemistry and physics department, to private industry.

I have read that in Russia teachers and scientists are highly honored and receive the largest salaries. Russia has hit the moon with her rocket.

When will America wake up and do all that is possible to get our fine young people into the teaching profession and keep them there?

(Mr. Miller is a brother to Ruth Miller, who is a teacher at Horace Mann Laboratory School.)

'Cats to Meet 'Dogs Saturday

This coming Saturday the Northwest Missouri State Bearcats will meet the powerful Kirksville Bulldogs at Kirksville November 7. Thus far in the season, the Bulldogs have a perfect 6-0 record with 3 of the wins coming in the conference. They are now tied with Cape Girardeau for the conference lead. These two met last Saturday in the game which more than likely determined conference champ, but this paper had already gone to press before the results could be included.

In gaining their conference victories, Kirksville downed Springfield, Warrensburg, and Rolla. Mainly responsible for Kirksville's fine record is Dale Mills, a candidate for Little All American. Against Rolla, he ran for two touchdowns and passed for another. So far this season, Mills has scored 13 touchdowns and 2 P. A. T., for an eighty point total; compared with Maryville's 58 points, it looms as quite a large figure. Last year he was the small college N.C.A.A. leading runner.

So, it looks like the Bearcats have their work cut out for them on November 6, and their rugged defense is going to have to be twice as rugged if they hope to cage Dale Mills.

Board Plans Big Bands

The Union Board is planning for the big name band dances which will be coming up later this year. These include the Christmas Ball, Tower Dance, and Spring Formal.

The big name bands may be limited to one this year instead of three, however, due to the cut in the budget of the central party committee.

WHERE DID THE PRESCRIPTION SYMBOL COME FROM ?

Authorities disagree. It may be an abbreviation of the Latin word "recipe" (you take), or it may have been the sign of the pagan god, Jupiter. Another theory claims that scholars of the middle ages (often both physicians and mathematicians) used the Latin word "radix" to signify answers to difficult multiplication problems. "Radix" was later abbreviated to Rx and adapted to represent medical answers to medical problems.

Which is right? Take your pick. And whether your doctor gives you a prescription or an "Rx" you can always be sure you'll get prompt efficient prescription service from us.
